Denali Marsh, a high school sophomore at Mira Loma High School in Sacramento, will be participating in a service trip to Peru this summer as part of DiscoveryBound's National Leadership Council. While there, he will be working with Peru's Challenge. He will be helping to build and plant a greenhouse alongside parents of the children he'll be teaching in school. Funds are needed for materials, contributions to the school, and travel expenses.

Jason Marsh performs acoustic violin with a computer and pedals to layer sixteen tracks of sound created live from the violin fingerboard. From classical to fiddle, he improvises full orchestrations real-time. The result is both beautiful and dramatic.
